CASE STORY:

“WE HAD NO BANDWIDTH, BUT IT GOT DONE”

Sometimes the biggest barrier to automation isn't the technology — it's time.

This is the story of how one growing HR firm was drowning in tasks and had no internal bandwidth to implement anything...

Yet still came out with a fully functional, revenue-saving automation system
— without lifting a finger.

Client Background

RedBridge Talent Group is a mid-sized recruitment firm with 18 staff members across two offices.

Their team was thriving in terms of client demand, but behind the scenes, operations were chaotic

— manual email follow-ups, scattered spreadsheets, and too much time spent on low-value admin work.

The Challenge

When we first spoke with their leadership team, they were honest:

“We love the idea, but we’re completely underwater. We won’t be able to implement anything you give us.”

Their systems were held together by individual team heroics and late nights.

They couldn’t afford to take people off task to ‘manage a project’ — they needed a team to do it for them.

Our Turnkey Solution

We immediately activated our Turnkey Implementation Plan.

We handled the audit (OpsMap), created a pilot (OpsPilot) to automate their lead intake and follow-up process, and rolled it out with zero disruption.

We only needed 3 short meetings with the client (totaling under 4 hours) over the entire project.

Our team built the automations, handled testing, created training videos, and stayed available for questions — all while the RedBridge team continued focusing on their clients.

The Outcome

Within the first 30 days of launch, they cut 8+ hours per week of admin work per recruiter.

- ✓ Time-to-response dropped by 75%
- ✓ Data accuracy improved across all client records
- ✓ Client satisfaction went up — no more missed follow-ups

And most importantly: they never had to pause or slow down to make it happen.

“We didn’t have the time to do this. But we didn’t need it — because 4Spot did it all. It just got done.”

— Karen W., COO, RedBridge Talent Group

Key Takeaway

If you're worried that you don't have the bandwidth to take on an automation project, this case proves it's possible.

With the right team — and a hands-off process — automation can move forward without becoming another item on your to-do list.
